ETHICSWEB
Work Package 2, Task 6

by EKUT-IZEW and INSERM

as of 27th February 2009

1 Introduction

According to the Description of Work of ETHICSWEB, task 6 of work package 2 has the objective to integrate portals and databases on ethics related research projects in the aimed portal management system ETHICSWEB. To obtain this, it is necessary to identify the relevant databases and information systems and to identify lacks of missing internet resources. In a further step, the providers of the identified resources ought to be contacted in order to find out, whether and how they could get integrated in the envisaged ETHICSWEB portal. The task is divided in two parts. The first herewith presented version 1 of Deliverable D 2.3 covers the survey on identified databases and portals on ethics related research projects.

The task to identify research projects on ethics leads to the question who is supposed / has an interest to provide research projects online. It can be assumed that on the one hand organisations whose task is funding of ethical research would present their funded projects. On the other hand there will be national or other central information providers who aim to inform the research community of ongoing and finished projects. As many of the resources don't focus on ethics solely, it also is necessary to consider portals and databases with a wider scope, if at least ethics related research projects are supposed to be part of the collection.

In order to prepare version 2 of the deliverable, the next steps will include validating and contacting the identified resources for the purposes of the ETHICSWEB portal.

In the Appendix, the questionnaire sent to the Regional Observers is documented.

2 Compilation of the survey

The following table shows the compilation of the questionnaires which have been returned by the Regional Observers by 27th February 2009. The resources are sorted 1. by country, 2. by region, and 3. by type of provider.

Some editorial work has been done while compiling the questionnaires. In some cases, thumbnails of database interfaces and other comments have been added. Sometimes two resources deriving from the same institution have been merged in one table row. Research areas of the providers or databases are highlighted in yellow. The right column of the table has been added in order to characterize and estimate the resources by the following preliminary aspects:

A) Type of provider

- ◆ funding organisation A: FundO
- ◆ information provider A: InfP
- ◆ other A: other

B) Scope of the information resource

- ◆ focus solely on (applied) ethics B: Eth
- ◆ focus on social sciences and / or humanities B: SocHum
- ◆ focus on health (including animal protection) B: Health
- ◆ general scope / all sciences B: Gen

C) Type of the information resource

- ◆ interactive database with search interface C: Dbase
- ◆ static directory leading to particular sites with research projects C: Dir
- ◆ static list of research projects C: List
- ◆ portal not providing research projects, but related to ethics C: Portal

D) Accessibility

- ◆ free access without login procedure D: free
- ◆ free access, but login required D: log
- ◆ limited access to special user group, login required D: lim

Realizadas estas líneas de investigación consideramos que la transición a la sostenibilidad debe basarse a su vez en la mejora de los sistemas que proporcionan información sobre el bienestar de la población, sin confundir costes con beneficios o depreciación del capital natural con ingresos, pero también en una respuesta rápida a las señales de alarma de los indicadores. A ello tendremos que unir el hecho de que se minimice el uso de los recursos no renovables y que se produzca un aumento de las tecnologías limpias. Es por todo ello por lo que consideramos que analizar el desarrollo sostenible y sus implicaciones económica, ecológica y ética, es algo fundamental en la actualidad, y más si cabe en una facultad de una Universidad que defiende los principios fundamentales del humanismo cristiano. http://www.madrimasd.org/investigadores/buscar-proyectos-investigacion/ficha/default.asp?Codigo=CEU4&amp;Codigo=PI	conocimiento.

Appendix

All Regional Observers of ETHICSWEB had been contacted by the following e-mail with the attached questionnaire template:

Dear ETHICSWEB partners,

As you know, the Task 6 of the WP 2 of the Ethicsweb project is to link/integrate databases and portals which collect information on ethics related research projects.

As a first step, we need to identify the relevant databases and information systems, in order to contact them and prepare measures for their integration into the ETHICSWEB portal.

On behalf of the WP2.6 subgroup (EKUT-IZEW / INSERM) and the coordinators, we would like to ask you as “Regional Observers” to collect the information available from your respective region countries.

We have got to take into consideration two approaches:

- I) Main approach: Identify funding organisations as providers for research project databases or portals
- II) Secondary approach: Identify databases/catalogues provided by national/international information providers or research institutes (as documentation centers, libraries and research institutions) whose aim is to collect research projects on ethics or in general

Taking into account that it is impossible to gather all the information about all the possible funding institutions and all the research project databases, and considering that our primary concern is ethics, we should restrict the search for funding organisations and information providers to those who are the most important and most relevant ones from the perspective of ethics.

To identify research project databases with explicit focus on ethics (like BEKIS http://bekis.eu/db\_zugriffe/projekt.html) will presumably come off seldom. So, please also consider database providers with a more general shape, if they at least contain some relevant research projects on ethics.

We kindly ask you to fill in the templates (enclosed) and return them to us (xxx@vz) by the 20th of December.

With kindest regards
xxx
